

The International Association of Press Photographers, abbreviated IAPP, is the world association of press photographers. The organization works for freedom of press and improved working conditions for press photographers around the world.

The tool of a journalist is the press pass.

With it the journalist can pursue his work unencumbered. Whether he is doing research or he needs access to closed areas or events, or whether he needs to conduct interviews, a press pass makes the job considerably easier.

With it the journalist can pursue his job 100 percent.
